Dear Edward,

Heritage Singers

I am writing with an apology for the delay, but chiefly with gratitude to the members of your choir, to the conductor, organist and administrator, for your visit to Southwell last year.

Apologies too for the general nature of this letter! The Liturgy & Music Office, a relatively new concept here, is snowed under at the moment (– in more ways than one). Let me assure you that the work of visiting choirs is greatly appreciated.

We hope that you enjoyed the visit overall and would feel able to return in the near future.

Please let me have any feedback you may have. Perhaps you could also consider recommending Southwell to other choirs you know of? Word of mouth is a marvellous tool, and would help us enormously.

Thank you once again.

Yours sincerely,

Stephen Power
